Volunteers like Mike make our mission possible!

A Deep Commitment to Serving Others

“I started in March of 1991. I was going to Sinclair at the time. I walked past the St. Vincent Hotel. I went in and asked if they needed help.”

Mike has been a staple in our laundry services for roughly 30 years. He began when St. Vincent de Paul was downtown on Fifth St., and is still volunteering at our laundry facility today, now located in the Job Center.

His reasons for coming back weekly are simple. “I’ve enjoyed the people I work with. I believe we are supposed to do something to give back to others.”

Every year we rely on dedicated volunteers like Mike to assist our guests by serving meals, cleaning, folding laundry, helping at the front desk, and much more. We are thankful for all of our volunteers who give their time and talents at St. Vincent de Paul. Walking With Our Neighbors Toward Stability

When Mark’s grandmother, who had long managed his finances, passed away, he quickly fell behind on rent. Facing eviction, he owed $2,400. Thankfully, his neighborhood Vincentians were there to help. They helped Mark negotiate with his landlord, paid part of the balance, and set him up with a plan to pay the rest.

Now Mark is learning money management and participating in leadership and job training at St. Vincent de Paul’s Job Center. With SVdP’s compassionate support, he not only avoided homelessness but also started on a new path toward greater stability and self-sufficiency.

Conferences connect neighbors to local resources to help them stay housed.
